Day Labourers

In Sri Lanka, six to seven million people are dependent on daily income to put food on their table. When the curfew was extended, the life of daily labourers became challenging and there was a shortage in food. They felt hungry. There were some social workers, including churches, giving food items but that was not enough. No one has a clear plan for day labourers and for their lives. The danger of the corona virus is real. As well, the daily hunger is extremely real. The Small Farmers are also affected as daily labours. They invested much but are now facing problems in getting food to market, in this situation Elim is helping Food stuff , Home Garden seeds and the Medical Help to poor people,

There are groups of people are doing relief, including churches. Elim has supported daily labourers families and our Elim children and their families it was worthwhile and helpful. We are very keen and clear in selecting families. [Jaffna, Vanni, vavuniya, Kilinochchi and Colombo]

We helped nearly 75 families with Food items, Medicine and vegetable seeds, now we are planning to help more on these kind of families to start their Home Gardens, so we placed the order for vegetable seeds and waiting for their delivery,

Nedan en pojke på sjukhus som behöver hjälp. Pappa är död och mamman slutade besöka honom när han blev amputerad efter en svår infektion. En bland de många som får del av hjälp från Hannas hjälpverksamhet med medicin.
